

Start to build your family tree. Put the name of the youngest in the lowest box and the names of any siblings. The next level up is Mom and Dad, then grandparents and great-grandparents, if you know their names. Feel free to add boxes to include other family members that are important to your family story.

